

High Point High School Class of 1966

58th anniversary

On September 13, 2024, the High Point High School Class of 1966 held its 58th anniversary class reunion in the Winner's Room at the National Press Club, Washington, DC. The luncheon offered three choices of entrees. There were 17 attendees at this event.

The Class of 1966 and the Fifty-Eighth Reunion

Our era at High Point was singular. The school was built 9 years before we got there. Mr Chotiner was its first principal. It was our local school, so we went there. We met each other, formed relationships, graduated and moved on.

By a decade after we were gone, the demographics of High Point's territory had changed tremendously. As the neighborhood evolved, other people attended, and they did the same thing that we did. We formed an identity, "The Class of 1966." Each following class formed its identity, but no two were the same, and none was quite like ours.

Our class at High Point has always seemed singular. It has been described with many superlatives. We had a strong combination of good students, good teachers, a good administration and support staff, a good and safe neighborhood, and it was the USA in the Sixties.

[illegible]

The Reunion Planning ☐r☐☐ thanks you for your interest, your attendance, and your support.

From left: Gary Fennel, Eva Garin, Neil Aronin, Barbara Terry Wensus, Mark McNutt, Mark Weinberg, Marian Aronin, Vivian Seaman, and John Seaman

From left: Neil Aronin, Eva Garin, and Barbara Terry Wensus

From left, clockwise: Mike Ziecheck, Sue Goldberg, Raymond Snow, Michael Mendelsohn, Sherry Lichtenberg, and Brian Reid

From left, clockwise: Eva Garin, Barbara Terry Wensus, Neil Aronin, Raymond Snow, Marian Aronin, and Mike Ziecheck

From left: Mike Ziecheck, Neil Aronin, Sherry Lichtenberg, Sue Goldberg, and Dan Goldberg

The Gang including beloved buddy Irving School teacher Bernard Weiner and his friends in the foreground

Marian and Neil Aronin in the foreground

Serrin and Neil having a conversation

Mike Z. and Marian Aronin cleaning up!

Sherry and Sue Goldberg exchanging stories; Mike Z. and Brian awkwardly in the background.

Sherry partially hidden, but never forgotten! Mark and Neil discussing world affairs or their latest ailments.

At the end of the affair (No, not that kind!). Schmoozing with Brian, Barbara, Neil, Eva, Mike, Sherry, and Marian

